

It's Time to Rethink Risk

Wednesday, June 19, 2019 • 12:00 p.m. MT
Hosted by Optiv, RSA and Frost & Sullivan

Speaker Biographies

Frost & Sullivan

Melanie Turek | VP, Connected Work

As a Fellow and VP of Research for Connected Work at Frost & Sullivan, Melanie covers a broad range of markets, leveraging long-standing relationships with leading industry participants' senior executives and customer organizations.

Melanie has more than 25 years' experience covering video and web conferencing, social networking, unified communications, voice, IP communications, instant messaging and presence, and the end-to-end customer experience, as well as a wide range of business software and services.

Melanie brings deep technical expertise and in-depth understanding of the ways in which technology can positively impact business processes and performance. She studied social anthropology at Harvard, and she views technology transformation through that lens.

Optiv

Robert Santiago | Manager, Risk Management

Robert Santiago is a manager in Optiv's Risk Management practice. Mr. Santiago's role is to provide engagement oversight and management consulting to Optiv's clients, sharing his deep experience in security processes as well as providing support and mentoring to other Optiv team members.

Robert has over 20 years' information security and Risk Management experience, holding numerous information security positions in the public and private sectors. Robert is an accomplished and talented professional with extensive background in information security, business continuity, governance, risk and compliance. In his most recent role, Robert directed, maintained and supported a team of consultants implementing RSA Archer eGRC, ServiceNow and LockPath Keylight eGRC solutions for several top Fortune 500 organizations, including the implementation of complex risk management and compliance assessment processes.

RSA

Chris Dodge | Senior Manager of Product Marketing

Chris Dodge is a Senior Manager of Product Marketing focused on RSA Archer suite of solutions with responsibilities for the go-to-market strategy, solution portfolio and the world-wide enablement of the sales and professional services organizations. Mr. Dodge has spent more than 20 years in the enterprise software industry specializing in PLM, CAD, product marketing, competitive strategy and technical sales. Mr. Dodge holds a BS and MS in Mechanical Engineering.